Castle Doone.

1st The Castle of Doone was ablaze with light,
And the fires shone out with a lustre bright,
And the gates and the doors were opened wide,
For the squire was coming home with his bride.

2nd The servants met me in the spacious hall,
For the squire was beloved by one and all,
They were wishful to let his lady see How royal and true their welcome could be.

3rd And bonfires were lit on the rocks and fells
And a merry peal rang on the old church bells,
And flags floated out from every tower
When the clock in the village struck the hour.

4th And all were attired in their very best They vied with each other who gayest was dressed, Sure, there never was such a worthy squire;
In singing his praises they never would tire.

5th They wonder what sort of lady she'll be,
And they strain their necks the bride to see,
And they thronged from round the country wide,
And the streets are crowded on every side.

6th Shouts of the villagers told their approach, Willing hands unyoke horses and draw the coach,
So midst strains of music and shouts of glee
The castle of Doone once again they see.

7th "She is like a picture" the people said, When the squire through the throng his lady led,
And they cheered the pair right heartily,
And the wall resounded with revelry.

When was Rome Built? asked a Board School Teacher of the first class in ancient history, "In the night" answered a bright little girl. "In the night?" exclaimed the astonished teacher. "How do you make that out?"
 "Why, I thought everyone knew that Rome wasn't built in a day," replied the girl.

An impromptu speech delivered by Mr Jenthin. Barrow.
The question being, "What would do if you were left with a cross baby?"

Two maidens fair were walding in a wheelbarrow the maid took corn to the mill I saw a dog swallow an elephant has a long trunk I went up in a balloon to get iron ore is the chief work in this district I advertised for a wife in the Co-op journal we get some tasty bits my sweetheart has got one eye at the back of his head is a large bump he wears a watch chain under his arm he carries a stick his nose is straight on the top of his head he has a curl we were married in a motor car I rode the other day two horses bolted in our street and fell into a perambulator a dog jumped the cat caught a mouse in a thimble I measure my snuff our parrot sings on the fiddle I play we ran a race I beat my mother with a broomstick chased a burglar we kept black hens red all over is the story our hens lay eggs as big as cocoa nuts are the eggs of an ostrich and now I have done you make me blush in my feet I have chilblains and rheumatism between my nose and my chin is my tongue good bye brethren I am off to Nancy Jones of Llanfairpwllgwyngygobwchllan dyssili agogo.
